LABOR UNIONS ARE VOTING YET ON THE STRIKE QUESTION

BULGARS ARE DRIVEN BACK BY FRENCH AND RUSSIANS

Traction Trains Are Attacked but the Damage is Limited to Broken Windows.

ONE PASSENGER IS HURT

Estimate of the Men Going Out on Strike Ranges from $500 to $125,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Renewed efforts were made Thursday to extend the general strike of all trades unions in this city and Westchester county which began Wednesday to enforce the demands of the striking street railway men. Only part of the total number of organized workers responded to the strike call on the first day, the estimate of the number going on strike ranging from 500 to upwards of 125,000. The maximum figures were given out by the labor leaders.

Unions having a total membership of 164,000 are to vote on the strike Thursday.

One passenger was injured Thursday morning when a Third avenue elevated train was showered with bricks and bottles. Other Third avenue trains were also attacked, but the damage was limited to broken windows. The police arrested four men, two of them striking street railway employees, charged with being responsible for the riot that took place Wednesday night following the derailment of a Third avenue surface car.

Fuller, millionaire recluse of Perryopolis, near here, has established a close guard on his farm as the result of receiving a black hand letter, demanding that $500 be left in a hollow tree on the Fuller farm. A package of papers was placed in the tree and a guard established. The papers disappeared without the takers being apprehended. Mr. Fuller owns several thousand acres of virgin Connelville coke and coal and is said to have more cash on deposit than any man in Fayette county. It is reported his bank balance totals $2,000,000 cash. He lives alone and has no relatives.

MOBILIZATION

Reports about the Military Forces in Greece Seem to Be Premature.

ATHENS, Sept. 28.—Reports that a general mobilization had been ordered are premature. After the session of the council of ministers at the palace Thursday morning Premier Kallergopoulos hastily called a cabinet meeting. The premier declared the government was giving the fullest consideration to the situation and said there might be addressed to Bulgaria a note of such character that mobilization might logically follow.

Even the departure of former Premier Venizelos from Athens created nothing like the suppressed excitement everywhere Thursday afternoon. The people feel that their long period of expectancy is about to end and the prospect of war with the Bulgarians apparently is welcomed.

McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Secretary Tamm. Using his speech of acceptance as a foundation, the president is preparing to build up the Democratic side in a series of addresses on political subjects.

A decision was reached Thursday for the president to make at least one speech here every Saturday between now and the election. He has also agreed to address a Pennsylvania delegation on October 14 and Thursday arrangements were made for him to speak to a delegation of farmers and a delegation from St. Louis later in October. BUFFALO BILL HERE WITH FAMOUS SHOW

Tents Are Pitched on the Old Union Park Baseball Grounds.

WILD WEST FEATURES

Cowboys and Indians Galore along with the Famous Scout Are Seen.

There is plenty to stir the imagination of both old and young America in the parade of the Buffalo Bill-Miller Brothers' Wild West Show today. The big show arrived here early today from Parkersburg and pitched its tents at the old Union park baseball grounds on the Grasselli street car line.

The children, and there were thousands of them at the curb, might have told you that their chief interest centered in the grandly painted Indians, while their elders would not deny that Buffalo Bill himself was the chief attraction. The veteran scout of American frontiers, the crack shot with pistol and rifle, who has figured in so many daring exploits, rode at the head of his interesting exhibition, driving two valuable horses raised on the plains. Though more than seventy years old he betrayed none of the feebleness of advanced years. Applause greeted him everywhere and he was kept busy swinging his sombrero.

There are three bands in the show, more than 400 horses and as many employees. Closely following Colonel Cody there were four squaws in single file, painted and decked with feathers, as most of the children had never seen them before. Feathers in their headresses were not sufficient, so each carried a five-foot sheaf of feathers of all colors. Following a band drawn by eight horses, one saw a steer that looked as if he enjoyed the rough handling of the cow boys twice a day in the exhibitions much better than gazing into the faces of the populace.

Indians again! This time they were displayed in their natural habitats. A six-horse team drew a heavy wagon, on which were two tepees, arranged just as they are to be seen, even today, on the western reservations and on the show grounds.

The Indians, however, must have betrayed their grief over the death of the chief, Iron Tail, for years ruler over of the Indians with this show, who has just died, and a few days ago the braves chose Chief Flying Hawk as Iron Tail's successor. He fought in the Custer massacre, and is about the same age as his predecessor. He rode at the head of the Indians today.

Mexicans, Arabs, Cossacks and Japanese, cow boys and cow girls rode their little ponies with the abandon that one would expect of daring riders, who thrill large audiences twice a day at the exhibitions. And the same can be said of the United States army men, who are on furlough, that they may take part in a military pageant entitled "Preparedness." There were two of the regular army field pieces in the parade, loaned by the government, for the mimic battles which include cavalry charges and artillery duels. A battle with the Indians is one of the incidental features. One also saw in the parade a fine specimen of the American bison, with which the name of Buffalo Bill has been so intimately associated. No men or groups of men ever killed so many of these great animals of the West as the veteran crew shot of the show. Lastly, the calliope, what child looking upon it for the first time as it thundered out its tones, did not regard it as the invention of another world!

She is a Feature of the Buffalo Bill-101 Ranch Show Exhibiting Here Today and Tonight.

The Bremen took much longer on its voyage than was calculated would be necessary and though the owners successfully concealed any appearance of apprehension, they have been waiting over a week anxiously for news.

GILMER COUNTY IS AGAINST RING RULE

And is Showing Strong Signs of Its Intention to Throw Democrats Out of Office.

GLENNVILLE, Sept. 28.—Gilmer county Republicans have taken the cue from their brothers over in Braxton county, who had their first victory over a long-entrenched Democratic ring rule in the election of 1914, and has organized their year to make the first break toward placing this county in the Republic. The natural result that is sure to follow as soon as the natural resources begin their big development, just as happened in Braxton. There is a silent Hughes vote in this county which will slip away from the Democrats on grounds they have never understood. Another vote they are going to lose they know all about—this is an agricultural and grazing county, largely, with the only hope for the development of the vast acreage of virgin coal and such a coal business as will send buyers among the farmers to open up the tracts. Democrats here know that while the Republican tariff law had no duty on farm implements or machinery of any kind, it did not protect the min the crops they raised, and it did protect them against the imported hides and beef of Argentine, Brazil and Australia, and they know that while the Wilson administration and Democratic Congress put a duty on the southern products of rice, cotton, peanuts and angora goat's hair, it took the duty off of wheat, corn, oats, potatoes, etc., and more serious, it took the duty off of coal, so that the Canadian product from Nova Scotia gets into the New England market to shut out business in this country.

Robinson is strong in this county; so is Reed; both of them are widely known, and Sutherland has his usual strength among the folks out in the farming districts everywhere, because he is "the man on the job." Cornwell has not been mentioned here yet; Republicans are not interested in his campaign, nor will they be at any time.
